Kerr Reviews Cost To Taxpayer Of Incorporation For Campbell Area

Leslie Kerr, member of the taxation and revenue committee for the Campbell incorporation committee, reports on costs to the taxpayer in incorporating the approved boundaries for the City of Campbell.

Text of Kerr's report follows:

Inasmuch as the corporate limits of the proposed city of Campbell have been determined by the County Board of Supervisors, it becomes desirable to make another forecast showing probable results of city operations during initial period of one year, including homeowner outcome.

In fixing city boundaries, the supervisors eliminated certain portions of the proposed perimeters, thus reducing somewhat the taxable assessment values and an undeterminate number of prospective inhabitants. However, instead of the peeling off process being a handicap, it will result in a greater economy in cost of city management and operation, as well as a direct benefit to all property holders, both owner and renter.

Approximately all of the eliminated areas would have necessitated heavy capital expenditures for one or more such facilities as fire plugs, sewer connections, street lights, sidewalks, etcetera.

Many of the "outside" areas are sparsely settled and more or less undeveloped. Most of them do not contain sufficient tax assessment values, at a maximum legal tax rate, to provide adequate revenues to pay for costs of furnishing desired city services. Other localities would have been somewhat difficult to service, thus the unit costs of servicing such areas would have been higher than normal.

Collectively, the inhabited districts do not contain an inherent capacity for economical management or proper accomplishment of city servicing without aid of the closely built-up inside area—particularly tax monies. Consequently, the peeling away of perimeters will benefit taxpayers located in the presently contained area.

As the writer understands the local attitude, the people of Campbell desire a "home-town" government; reasonable fire and police protection; to remain a residential community; to be in a position whereby city-services can be added according to local demand; and, to have control over local regulations and expenditures of tax-monies. In fact, a community governed by the free citizens of an independent city having sovereignty over its own destiny. Accordingly, the following proposal are based on a city-operation devoid of "cityfied" frills, fancies and unnecessary expenses.

The following datum are considered in this survey. The area included within the proposed city limits of Campbell embraces approximately two square miles of land or about twice the area contained within the city boundaries of Los Gatos.

Local proponents and opponents variously estimate the population at from 5000 to 8000. I am arbitrarily using 6000 as an unsupported estimate. In this connection, attention is invited to the Federal census of April, 1950, which lists 168 California cities with a population of less than 6000 each, and twelve cities having populations ranging between 6000 and 7000. There were 304 active California cities as of June 1950

No reliable data is readily available which will indicate taxable assessment values of properties located within the presently proposed city limits of Campbell. The per capita taxable property in Santa Clara County average:

| | June 30, 1948 | 1949 | 1950 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Cities | $1122 | $1261 | $1251 |
| Other than cities | 1026 | 1072 | 1147 |
| County total | 1079 | 1137 | 1205 |

Assuming that $1,000 is a reasonable average and that the population is 6000, then the aggregate assessment value for Campbell should total at least $6,000,000 (probably more). This figure is a rough approximation and does not take into consideration any increases due to recent reappraisals, which, in some cases, are quite substantial.

The reader should definitely understand that the above averages were used solely for the purpose of arriving at a total property assessment. And that, such averages are not suitable for purpose of determining the average home-owner property value. For instance, the total value of $6,000,000 includes public utilities, industrial, and commercial properties, as well as acreage and personal property values. The 6000 population estimate includes both property owners and renters.

The property assessments made by the State Board of Equalization, average:

| | June 30, 1948 | 1949 | 1950 |
|---|---|---|---|
| City | $ 87 | $108 | $106 |
| Other than cities | 108 | 116 | 130 |
| County total | 94 | 108 | 117 |

No data is at hand to cover other assessment values, such as industrial, commercial, acreage, etc. The combined aggregate value of which is arbitrarily placed at $145 per unit of Campbell population. Therefore, if tenable, the property values, other than residential, would be $275 (130 plus 145) or $1,650,000 for the Campbell area. Thus the homeowner properties would be $725 per capita (1000 minus 275) or $4,350,000 collectively. Then assuming that the average campbell home contains 3 1/3 people, the taxable value of the average home should approximate $2,400 (725 times 3 1/3). Specific attention is called to fact that figures used herein are averages, and, based largely on information of an intangible nature.

Naturally, the primary interest of this particular $2400 property owner is the direct effect of city incorporation, translated in dollar and cents costs to him personally. All right, let's assume the property is located in a high tax-rated district of Campbell— specifically, code area 62—5. Asuming further, the County and Campbell Sanitary District tax statements show:

|---|---|---|
| Land value | $ 350 | $ 350 |
| Improvement value | 1950 | 1950 |
| Total real value | 2300 | 2300 |
| Personal property | 100 | 100 |
| Exemption | ..... | ..... |
| Total value | 2400 | 2400 |
| (County | 130.86 | 104.55 |
| Total tax items (Campbell Sanitary | 2.40 | 16.80 |
| (Grand total | 133.26 | 121.35 |

If the taxpayer is a veteran, he is entitled to a $1000 exemption, under certain conditions. Complete details of tax items follow:

| Tax assesment details Code area 62—5 | 1951-52 Taxes | 1951-52 Rate | 1948-49 Taxes | 1948-49 Rate |

| County taxes | $ 44.88 | $1.870 | $ 46.32 | $1.930 |

| Water conservation (land only) | 2.80 | .800 | ——— | ——— |
| Sanitary No. 4 (land and imp.) | 5.52 | .240 | ——— | ——— |
| Total county | 130.86 | 6.146 | 104.55 | 4.903 |

| Grand Total | 133.26 | 6.246 | 121.35 | 5.603 |
| Maximum additional city tax | 8.33 | .347 | 1.72 | .072 |
| Total taxes as a city | 141.59 | 6.593 | 123.07 | 5.675 |

The three starred (*) items shown above cover municipal type taxes. Therefore, it is quite evident that the people of Campbell are actually paying "City-Taxes" whether they are aware of this fact or not.

The California statutes provide that Campbell, as a sixth-class city, cannot exceed a city tax rate of $1.00 per $100 of assessed valuation. Thus, it will be noted that: The 1951-52 aggregate of starred items total a tax rate of $0.657 and $18.67 in tax money to be paid. At a maximum legal rate of $1.00, the $2400 property could not be charged to exceed $24.00. Consequently, the additional taxes that could be assessed would be limited to $8.33.

As a direct result of city incorporation, the home owner would instantly be entitled to a reduction in PG&E rates covering domestic gas and electric current. Based on the rates in effect as of December, 1951, and assuming that this party was an average meter-consumer, the reduction should approximate $9.00 per annum. Thus the maximum additional city tax of $8.33 would be a theoretical increase.

Gubser Hits Federal Taxation And Give-Away Plans In Lincoln Day Talk

Charles S. Gubser, assemblyman for the 29th district, struck out at what he termed the excessive taxation and give-away programs of the federal government at a meeting of the Orchard City Grange last Tuesday night. Speaking on the annual observance of Lincoln's birthday, the assemblyman maligned many of the federal programs as having been done in the name of Lincoln but without the wisdom of the great president.

"Lincoln as the Great Humanitarian made the traditional words—life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, live. Many political projects attempted in the past twenty years have been done with the spirit of Lincoln. I wish they could have been done with the wisdom of Lincoln. Excessive taxation has not helped the common man, and neither have "give-away" programs. It would be far better if the government gave the little man a chance to earn.

"In the past seven years, the government has spent more money than all U. S. presidents including Franklin D. Roosevelt. It takes the gross income of 27 states to pay the expenses of the federal government. To show how excessive taxes have been drying up income sources, U. S. Steel made less profit although it took in more gross income. It also had to spend less for expansion. The common man feels that. How about "soaking the rich?" If we confiscated all the wealth of the rich, the federal government would be run for ten days only. In England, under its socialistic government, the rich salt their money away rather than put it to work; therefore very little in taxes comes from them. The poor man has to make up the difference; so we find the poor paying more taxes than the rich. I do not think Lincoln would approve of the little man being treated that way."

Jerry Locke, executive committeeman, reported on a rental arrangement concerning Grange property, and the members approved a plan to lease the property located at Fourth and Sanford to a group of merchants for parking facilities.

Announcement was made that the next meeting of the Pomona Home Economics Club will be held in the Sunnyvale Masonic Hall on February 25.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nellie Rutherford, Mark Purmort and Mrs. Malissa Smith.

Nineteen other scouts from Santa Clara County were among those receiving the honor.

Presentation of the award, a bronze cross on a ribbon, was made to Kerry by Archbishop Mitty and followed a parade in which 1700 Scouts marched up Van Ness avenue to St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco.

The play will be presented in the evening.

ISSUES PERMIT

The County Building Inspector issued a building permit in the amount of $2,500 for the erection of a two-story apartment house to the Campbell firm of Shmidl and Hammer.

Cypress Tree, Well Known Landmark At Grammar School, Stricken By Disease

The fate of the large cypress tree in front of the Campbell Grammar School, well-known landmark and community Christmas tree each year, hangs in the balance of negotiations now being made by both the Chamber of Commerce and the school authorities. According to tree surgeons, the tree is doomed by a disease which is affecting its upper reaches unless action is taken by some public-spirited group to remedy the affliction. Both the Chamber of Commerce and the school authorities have discussed means of raising money for the necessary treatment, but, to date, no action has been taken by either group.

History of the tree is founded in colorful beginnings. It was planted on the 200th anniversary of Washington's birthday at the 1932 celebration of Old Settlers' Day. Herb Shadle, incoming president of the chamber of commerce, headed a committee which made arrangements to plant the living monument. William Sherman, Past Grand Master of the Masonic Order of California and well-known San Francisco banker, made the dedication speech at the time of planting.

The tree, at that time, was the size of a medium-sized Christmas tree, and was purchased by the committee at a cost of $25. It is scientifically known as Sequoia Gigantea. The shovel used to break ground for the planting is the same one used by Teddy Roosevelt in 1903 when he planted a similar tree on the old high school grounds. It is now on display at the high school.

This living monument to a great man will eventually die from the disease which afflicts its upper branches, and only prompt action by community organizations and individuals can restore it to its original state of health.

C OF C BUILDING TO BE DEDICATED

QUITO RESIDENTS HOLD MASS MEET FOR RECREATION CENTER

Better than 400 residents of Quito Park crowded into a vacant store at the Quito Shopping Center last Friday night to hear several notable speakers discuss plans and offer suggestions for a recreational center and program for the area. Entertainment and refreshments were furnished by the Quito Merchants' Association.

Speakers of the evening were Rev. Gerald Geary of the Sacred Heart Parish in Saratoga, Laurance J. Hill of the Campbell Union High school distrit, Assemblyman Robert Kirkwood, Fifth District Supervisor Dr. Earl Campbell, Rev. James Strayer of the Calvary Methodist Church in San Jose, Marc Swengel, principal San Tomas school, and Robert Tack, representing Moreland School.

Rev. Strayer portrayed Quito residents as pioneers of an era commencing in Santa Clara Valley. He stated the growth in the Valley was a "small part of the greatest migration in history." He commonly described Quito Park as "just a lot of homes close together" and added that, with "spiritual fortitude, building with hearts, hopes and vision, it will become a community."

Earlier Mr. Hill had pointed out that even if the area population remained at its present figure, nine years from now enrollment at the Campbell Union High school will have doubled. He added that 1965 would see high school enrollment increased to better than five times the present number of students, or 6,000.

In discusing financing of the proposed community building and recreational area. Assemblyman Kirkwood explained that a five cent tax rate at both the elementary and high school levels was made possible by the last State Legislature.

Supervisor Campbell added that governmental aid for such a project must come from the county. He explained that a responsible and repersentative organization from the community would have greater success in securing such aid than several minority groups.

Rev. Geary assured the assembled group that spiritual guidance and assistance from all denominations in Saratoga is available for such a program.

Mr. Ronald Avery, president of the Quito Merchants' Association, explained that although it was impossible for the Association as a group to sponsor such a program, moral, spiritual and financial aid is pledged by each and every merchant as an individual. Mr. Avery asked the group to "think over the ideas and suggestions offered at the meeting and plan to meet again in two weeks for an open forum on the matter."

Sport Scenes

By "Mac"

Coach George Miskulin's matmen will face their supreme test Saturday at Lick when they enter the SCVAL tournament. Campbell's loss to the Comets last Friday put leadership of the league in a three-way tie between Lick, Fremont, and Campbell. Miskulin figures the tourney can go to any of these three teams. All of them have men who have been undefeated during the season and he predicts the closest match in history.

The mat mentor lays Campbell's 30-19 loss to the Comets last Friday to the fact that the Lick men were up and Campbell was down. The Buc's had just set a new record in blanking Sequoia and were definitely feeling overconfident. Added to this was the determination of the Comets to whip the leading contender for the championship. Lick men had been preparing for the match during the whole year, and were at their peak strength for the first time during the season.

Another event which should attract the interest of sports lovers in the Campbell district is the Kiwanis sponsored County Heavyweight Grammar School cage tourney on the Campbell courts Saturday. Neal Royer, coach of the little lads, predicts a close race between Sunol, Gilroy, Alum Rock and Campbell. The locals are tied for first place in the league with Alum Rock with a record of six and one and are hard pressed by Mountain View with five wins and two losses. Sunol, which belongs to another league, has a slight edge in the experts' opinions. They hold the record of victors at the last tourney held in Santa Clara in November and should be showing considerable improvement. Bouquet of the week should go to the Campbell Kiwanis for their fine work in arranging and sponsoring this meet between sixteen county teams.

Repair and preparation is order of the week at Campbell High school. Nearing completion are six outdoor basketball courts and six combination badminton - volley ball courts. Also on the list is the work underway in preparing the baseball infield for the beginning of practice next week. In line with the batmen news is George Miskulin's comment that he believes the Bucs will have a better knit and a smoother functioning ball team this year. Two returning pitchers will grace the Buc squad as will the return of a catcher and one infielder and one outfielder.

Next Monday will initiate the first pentathalon ever held in the history of the Buc thinclads. The meet, which will start Monday and run five days with a separate event featured each day, will be strictly inter-squad competition. Junior Morgan, who will guide the thinclads during the coming season, expects the pentathalon to be a great aid in placing men on the various squads and in predicting the shape of things to come. Morgan is holding up any comment on the future of this year's squad until he sees the results of the meet. The five-match event will include high-jump, broad-jump, shot-put, 100-yard dash and 880, each in that order and featuring only one event each day.

Bert Robinson is well pleased with the showing that his varsity cagers made against the Acorns last Friday. Although the locals lost the tilt, 46-33, they stayed with the Live Oak squad, one of the league's leaders, until Christianson, high scorer for the league, got hot in the third frame to sew up the contest. Robinson says that on the basis of their actions last week, the squad does have a chance to dump Fremont here tomorrow, providing of course, that the Bucs put together the same type of game that they did against the Acorns. Bert has claimed all season that his boys have the stuff to whip any team in the league if they once start clicking. He predicts a victory for the 30's against the Indians in the preliminary.

Forestry Division Seeks Key Men

The State Division of Forestry is busy today recruiting key men well in advance of its summer forest fire fighting season. Inexperienced rank and file will not be taken on until about April 15 in Southern California and two to four weeks later in other parts of the state.

Immediate applicants are sought for civil service examinations for forest fire truck driver, forestry equipment operator, forest fire lookout and forest firefighter foreman. Deadline for filing is February 19 for the first two jobs, February 21 for the latter two.

California had a bad fire season in 1951, though areas protected by the state were not so hard hit as the national forests.

Applications for the forthcoming examinations are available from the State Personnel Board at Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles and from Department of Employment offices. Run-of-the mill firefighters are advised to wait until they are called for in April or May.

WATER IS VITAL

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer recently emphasized that the South's most important natural resource is water. Commenting on the South's phenomenal industrial expansion, he said, "The quantities of water involved are amazing . . . One hundred cases of canned spinach require 16,000 gallons . . . and it has been estimated that the production of a thousand barrels of synthetic gasoline requires almost 16 million gallons of water." He further said that, "Few people realize the growing importance involved in the use of water for the processes of modern civilization."

What he said of the South is even more applicable to California. The South is a humid region with average rainfall varying from 40 to 80 inches, while California is for the most part semi-arid. We are already confronted with water shortages of varying acuteness in particular areas. Our population and industrial production are expanding greatly, and so is our agricultural output. This brings increasing demand upon water resources that are not yet adequately conserved or wisely distributed.

FAIR ALLOCATION NEEDED

Many Californians have lapsed into the belief that because farmers have done the loudest complaining about water problems, these are of chief concern to agriculture—that is, except in the few instances in which large metropolitan areas have had to spend tremendous sums to bring water in from distant sources of supply.

We need to have more persons in important posts, like Secretary Sawyer, reminding us that without water we limit our potential industrial growth, our population growth, and our agricultural output.

This is a problem of greatest magnitude. Not only do we have the difficult task of determining how best to conserve and distribute our water supplies on a regional basis, but we must keep in mind our need to encourage a fairly well-balanced economy in California with our water resources being allocated so as to accomplish this desirable end.

GROWING AWARENESS

We have major engineering problems to be solved. The financing program of great water storage and distribution systems warrant considerably more thought than some of these projects have had in the past. Our water laws, inherited from other regions and vastly different conditions, need the attention of legislators who are also statesmen.

As much as anything else, we need a growing consciousness in California that water is our most important natural resource — although Nature and Providence have been bounteous in supplying others of great importance, too. We need to curb our inclination to "grab" at water supplies to meet our needs and, instead, think in terms of what will serve the greatest good.

California has men who are equal to such a task. The job is one that we should undertake with our best leadership. As ex-Congressman Phil Swing said recently in discussing water problems, "No one else is better able to solve your local problems than are you and your neighbors."

'God's Prophets' Is Sermon Topic

"Martyrs and Prophets of God!" has been chosen as the topic for the Morning Worship Service at 11 a.m. in the Campbell Baptist Church, 115 Sunnyside Ave., as announced by the pastor, the Rev. Lyle E. Cushman. Special music will be provided by the choir.

In the Evening Worship Service at 7:0 p.m., the pastor will speak on the subject, "Old Wills, and New Inheritances!" Singspiration, and Bible Exposition mark the evening hour. The public is invited to all the services of the church.

Sunday School meets at 9:45 a.m., with classes for all ages. Youth Fellowship, 6:0 p.m.

Wednesday, Bible Study and Prayer Hour, 7:30 p.m.

Ann was fascinated by her introduction to a busy telephone office.

Ann White—and the Spirit of Service

Ann White could be the girl next door . . . or any of the thousands of capable young women who decide each year to make their first job a telephone job. Her first day was exciting, and a bit bewildering, as she began her training as an operator. But soon she gained confidence, learned to meet many situations with poise and skill. She began to feel the importance of getting every call through . . . the "spirit of service" shared by telephone people everywhere . . . the feeling which is perhaps the most important ingredient of good telephone service.

One unforgettable day, not long after she began handling real calls, a frightened little voice on Ann's line cried: "I'm lost. Could you find my Daddy for me?" Ann did, of course. Such things often happen in the telephone business, and often we receive grateful letters telling us about them. We like to hear these good reports about our operators, our installers, and others who meet our customers directly. For they tell us that you recognize the "spirit of service" . . . so much a part of day-to-day telephone work . . . so important in making your telephone ever more valuable to you.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

You can seldom put a price tag on a telephone call . . . for it may save a life, close a business deal, or it may be just routine. But it's good to know that, even in these days of high prices on most things, your telephone service remains one of today's best bargains.

TAX DOLLAR NOT GOING TO LOCAL GOVERNMENTS, OFFICIAL STATES

"The tax dollar is rapidly leaving state and local governments. It is being consumed by Washington," said Frank E. Packard, Executive Vice President of the Western Tax Council while in San Francisco recently, attending a series of tax conferences.

"Twelve years ago the tax dollar was divided about equally among federal, state and local, but today three-fourths goes to the National government, he said.

His further comment emphasized the fact that this is on the basis of peace time expenditures. It excludes the cost of National defense.

Our state, county and city treasuries are feeling the impact of this rapid trend toward a federal socialized economy. Free enterprise is being hit hard with the tax take permitted under the unlimited powers of the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution.

Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury in 1924, said, "It seems difficult for some to understand that high the Government, and that more revenue may often be obtained by lower rates. There was an old saying that a railroad freight should be 'what the traffic will bear'; that is, the highest rate at which the largest quantity of freight will move. The same rule applies to all private business. If a price is fixed too low, sales may increase, but again profits decline. There is a reasonable balance, in government as well as in business."

With a majority of the members of twenty-six state legislatures having adopted a resolution to demand that Congres submit to the states the matter of Federal taxation and the placing of a 25 percent ceiling on income, gift, and estate taxes, we have seen that members of Congress do listen. President Truman asked for a ten billion dollar tax a few weeks ago. Congress "stopped, looked and listened," and voted five and a half billion.

Right now there is a salutary effect on Washington's expenditures and its reckless levying of taxes. Six additional states are required to reach the necessary two-thirds, or thirty-two states, to pass the resolution which will compel Congress to let state legislatures have an opportunity to have something to say regarding Federal taxation.

Arizona and Colorado are expected to adopt the resolution in January. The California legislature will have the opportunity to join with the others at its March session.

CANADIAN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Canadian Club held its regular monthly meeting Friday, February 8, in room B on the third floor of the YWCA building at 1:00 p.m. They had as speaker Mr. David D. Blair, executive secretary of the Goodwill Industries of Santa Clara county. Mr. Blair touched on the highlights of the training, rehabilitation and employment of the physically handicapped program carried on by the Goodwill Industries. The talk was illustrated by the use of colored slides.

The history of the Canadian Club goes back as far as 1928, when it was founded by Mrs. Clara Williams and a small group of Canadian women. Mrs. Williams is now over 80 years old and lives is Palo Alto, but is still active in the club. She comes in regularly to attend the meetings. The present officers are Mrs. A. E. Carruthers, president; Mrs. E. V. Carstens, vice president; Mrs. F. G. Luse, secretary, Mrs. M. G. Murphy, treasurer.

The first daily newspaper in the United States was the "Pensylvania Packet and General Advertiser" started in Philadelphia in 1784.

Louis Rossi Throws Hat In Congress Race

Louis Rossi, 52, San Jose furniture store owner and for many years a leader in business and veterans' circles, today placed himself definitely in the race for Congress from the newly formed 10th District, which includes Santa Clara, San Benito and Santa Cruz Counties.

Rossi, a life-long Republican, will seek the nomination of his own party and also that of the Democratic party. He said he would wage a vigorous campaign for the office, and his campaign announcements contained a pledge to work for a 20 per cent slash in withholding taxes.

Rossi, a veteran of the U.S. Army in World War I, is now president of the San Jose Merchants Association, is past commander of the American Legion and past president of the United Veterans Council.

Rossi is married and lives with his wife Emily at 1007 Camino Pablo. He has a daughter, Mrs. Paul Pendergraft of Los Gatos, and two grandsons, aged 2 and 3½ years.

For 20 years Rossi was with Hart's Department Store, 15 years as division manager and buyer. He later managed the Farmers Union, and in April, 1946, established his furniture store at Second and San Salvador Sts.

Rossi has been active in many civic groups. # Moreland Student Reports On Unesco Conference Held Recently In Palo Alto

Editor's Note: The following is a report on a trip to the Palo Alto setting of the United Nation's Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization Conference, by James Schubert, ten-year-old student attending the sixth grade at Moreland School.

After driving through a puzzling maze of streets in Palo Alto, our party of three came to the Middlefield Community Center. It's appearance is somewhat like a park, in which lies many picturesque buildings which follow a modernized Spanish architectural theme.

We entered through a walk surrounded by one-story buildings in which I noticed, in one room, the office of the Boy Scouts of America. On exhibit in the hall between the outside and the huge auditorium were many flags of the United Nations grouped around in attractive displays on the walls. Following registration, we entered the long, wide auditorium.

The introduction to the national meeting went quickly, as did the community singing which was "America" and "My Bonny Lies Over the Ocean." The superintendent of schools in Palo Alto gave a talk about the many kinds of walls between nations and what improvements have been made. The delegates from almost all of the countries represented gave their names. This was followed by a movie.

We left the auditorium for the first section meetings. My section was on the nation of Turkey with the delegates Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Ergil. After the meetings, we had a Chinese luncheon at the Walter Hays School. Chinese chopsticks presented a difficult means of eating lunch, and I finally discarded them for the good old American knife and fork.

After some folk dancing, we visited the Junior Museum and found the Unesco exhibits very interesting. The biggest collection was from Saudi-Arabia which showed some of the products of the countries represented at the conference. In the same room was a collection of stuffed animals that looked very real. Next we went on to a room where there were many nature collections. A doorway led to an amazing, twisting hallway that showed the early life and beliefs of man. Some of the pictures were those showing early man and his changes in ideas.

Then came the last section of meetings and after that I began wandering through the many rooms before the last meeting in the auditorium. Some of the students gave reports on what they had learned and then some of the delegates played music from their native lands.
